

Want to Contribute to India's Future?

Learn more about the Stanford MBA Program and the Reliance Dhirubhai Fellowship. Reliance Industries Limited has generously created the Reliance Dhirubhai Fellows Program to support Indian students with financial need in their effort to obtain an MBA at the Stanford Graduate School of Business. Fellows, bound to return to India within two years and for at least two years, will receive full financial support for the two-year Stanford MBA Program and for all fees associated with applying.

Stanford's innovative curriculum offers a personalized, engaging, and global educational experience to empower you to make a difference when you return to India. Reliance and Stanford are dedicated to developing the next generation of leaders in India who are committed to the country's human and socioeconomic progress.
